BILLINGS TRIAL IS LACKING IN THRILLS

Prosecution Delves Into His Past to Show He Is Old Dynamiter

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—The shadow of Warren K. Billings' past fell across the court room of Superior Judge Dunne today.

The prosecution started to open closed chapters in the life of the young man who is on trial charged with murder in connection with the preparedness parade bomb tragedy. That Billings and Thomas-Mooney, another accused man, have for four years conspired in dynamiting, is what the district attorney's office hopes to show.

Hop Market Shows But Little Activity

It is stated at the office of the Oregon Hopgrowers' association this afternoon that very little activity is manifested as yet in the market, although scattering sales are reported. Several small lots of fuggles have been sold at 12 cents, and the price on the clusters ranges from 7 1/2 to 9 cents.

The latest California quotations, received this morning, is 11 cents.

One Salem buyer, Russell Catlin, has bought 38,000 pounds of hops this week at 7 1/2 cents.

Estimates on the loss from lice and mold run from 25 to 33 1/3 per cent, depending on the viewpoint of the authority. One hundred thousand bales is considered a fair estimate of the two crops of the state. Conservative judges, however, refuse to make estimates. The supply of pickers is so short in some sections, and conditions generally so uncertain, that they do not feel themselves warranted in doing so.

The W. H. Grabenhorst real estate office is displaying a branch of this year's growth raspberry on which are about 90 well formed and ripe-black raspberries. The branch is about two feet long.
